The John Glenn College of Public Affairs provides professional training in leadership, personal development, diversity equity and inclusion, program management, and more. Our one-day, on-line, facilitator-led, skill-based training courses are specifically designed for public and nonprofit employees at all career levels – anyone can register.

To register for a course, click on the title below:

January
- Reflecting on Privilege and Positionality (1/7)
- Advanced Grant Writing Techniques (1/12)
- Managing the Cost of Policing (1/13)
- Effective Delegation (1/14)
- Leading with Inclusions and Cultural Agility (1/20)
- Social Media and Self-Branding for Beginners (1/21)
- Stock Your Toolbox: Pre-Supervisory Skills (1/26)
- Leadership Behaviors During Disruptive Times (1/27)
- Project Management for Researchers (1/28)

February
- Effective Business Writing and Technical Writing (2/3)
- The Art of Influencing Others (2/4)
- Public Information Law (2/10)
- Examining Race and Racism in the US Part 1 (2/11)
- The Path of Most Resilience (2/16)
- Fostering Energy, Enthusiasm and Creativity (2/18)
- Strategic Inclusive Leadership (2/23)
- High-Performance Workplace Behavior (2/24)
- Social Media and Self-Branding: Advanced (2/25)

For more information contact: glenn-training@osu.edu or 614-292-3242