

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

2022 Distinguished Scholar Award

The Distinguished Scholar Award (DSA) program annually recognizes and honors six faculty members who demonstrate scholarly activity, research or creative works which represent exceptional achievements in their fields and who have brought distinction to themselves and The Ohio State University. Recipients of the DSA award receive a $20,000 research grant and a $3,000 honorarium to pursue their scholarly activity. The winners of this award are honored during a faculty awards ceremony held in the spring.

All nominations must be made by departmental committee convened by the department chair (or his/her designee). Individuals wishing to nominate a candidate should contact their department chair. In keeping with the university's ongoing commitment to diversity, nominations of women faculty and faculty from other underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged.

Previous DSA recipients and Ohio Eminent Scholars are not eligible for nomination. Nominees must have five years of employment history at Ohio State. For 2022 nominees, starting date at Ohio State must be on or before June 1, 2016.

DSA nominations may remain "active" for three years. Departmental nominating committees must decide each year whether to re-nominate or withdraw their active nominations. If a candidate is not selected to receive an award during their three-year period of eligibility, the candidate's application is automatically withdrawn. Eligibility for nomination may be restored after a one-year hiatus.
